Tutoring Experience

Over the past 7 years, I have worked with students across various levels, helping them master mathematical concepts and apply them effectively in exams. My expertise spans IGCSE Maths and A-Level Mathematics, including core modules, statistics, and mechanics. I also support students preparing for IB Mathematics, covering both SL and HL content.

I have guided students from diverse academic backgrounds to achieve success, including admissions into competitive universities. Beyond curriculum-based teaching, I've helped students enhance their problem-solving skills and analytical thinking, ensuring they are well-equipped for academic challenges. My practical experience in mathematics applications has been a key element in bridging theoretical learning with real-world contexts.
