Tutoring Experience

Over the past 12 years, I have worked with students across IGCSE, A-Level, and IB curricula. My expertise lies in Economics and Mathematics, and I've guided numerous students to success in these subjects. Whether it's helping an IGCSE student solidify their understanding of economic fundamentals or preparing an IB student for their HL Economics exams, I ensure tailored support to meet their academic goals.

I've also worked extensively with A-Level students, assisting them in achieving the grades needed for competitive university admissions. In addition, I've mentored students on essay structure, evaluative skills, and data analysis, particularly for coursework and assessments in Economics. My experience spans private tutoring and group sessions, ensuring students are fully prepared for their academic challenges.
